Message from the President and Chairman

IN PARTNERSHIP WE CONTINUE TO MEET THE NEEDS OF ARMENIA

Abp. K. Barsamian
Archbishop Khajag Barsamian, President

Dear Friends,

Another fruitful year is proof that your support and solidarity continue to make a difference for Armenia. In 2011, FAR made considerable advances in our life-changing work because of dedicated friends like you.

The FAR Children's Center continued to heal the most vulnerable and at-risk youth in Armenia, providing them with the care and help they need. It also expanded its role by forming alliances with other key stakeholders who will help to make child protection a greater focus in Armenian society.

Randy Sapah-Gulian, Chairman

And GTech - through training and now online courses - continues to give more Armenians the valuable skills they need to join the IT sector, and ultimately contribute to building a stronger, more self-sustainable economy.

As this report shows, success and progress are truly alive in the individual stories of the people we serve. These personal tales of triumph and achievement are all because you continue to trust us and believe in us, and because we at FAR strive to live up to your expectations.

Your support means powerful results for Armenia, for you are the ones who make it possible to change the lives of so many Armenians.

For all the dedication, belief and hope you place in Armenian people, year after year, we thank you.

Caring for Children

The FAR Children's Center transforms the lives of children and families by performing crisis intervention and short-term rehabilitation. It is the only institution in Armenia where children and their families can access shelter, counseling, outreach services, healthcare and legal assistance.

FAR ensures children end up in good homes instead of state institutions

Letter from:
GOR SARGSYAN
12 YEARS OLD

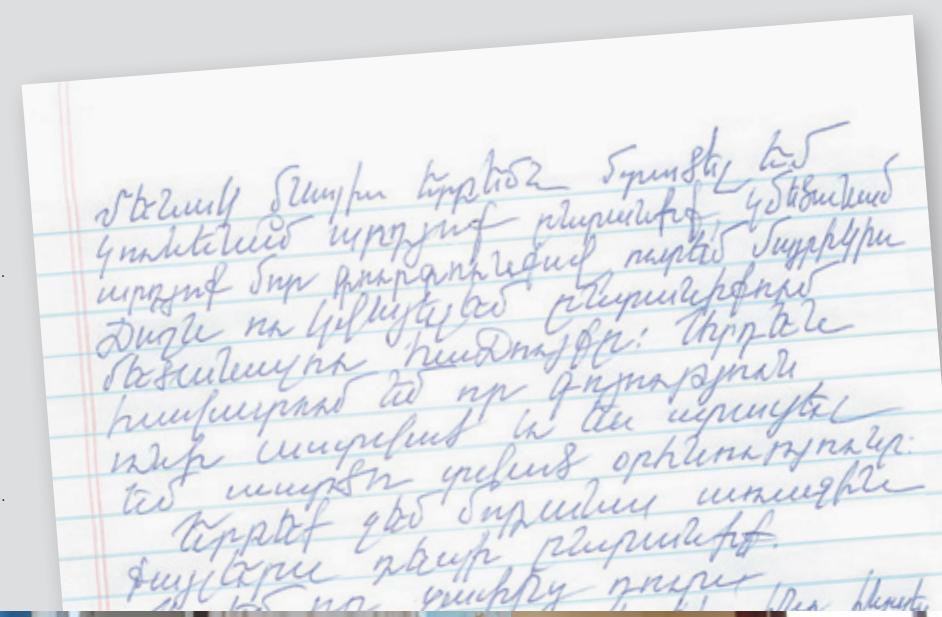

When I was alone in the orphanage, I sometimes thought about what it would be like to have a family. What would it be like to grow up in a mother's care, to taste food cooked by my mother? Would I ever have a chance to be part of a family? Well now, I've been blessed. I will never forget my first steps into what is now my new family's home.

I was very timid. I didn't know how to behave in a family, and how I would be accepted there. But I had the feeling of warmth the moment I stepped into my foster family's house. It felt like I had been born and grown up there, in a house filled with warmth and surprises. I was confused. As I was looking around I thought it was a dream that was going to end. But that dream still continues, thank God, and my life is now filled with joyful, wonderful days. I now know what it's like to have relatives. I was able to get acquainted with my aunts and uncles. It seems like I've just been reborn.

I want to extend a big thank you to Ms. Mira Antoneyan at the Children's Center, and all those who helped me to find my new family.

I think about my friends at the orphanage who also want to have a family. They also want to experience this. All of my friends at the orphanage want to return to families and live a light-hearted and peaceful life under the care of their mothers and fathers. I clearly see my future, and I make plans and projections. I believe that good things are going to come true with my new mother's blessings.

Economic and Social Development

The Armenian National Science and Education Fund promotes social and economic growth by sustaining world-class scientific research and innovation in Armenia through competitive research grants to a select number of Armenia's scientists.

The Gyumri Information Technology Center strengthens skills and expands opportunity by providing state-of-the-art information technology training to ambitious young Armenians in order to compete for prestigious jobs in Armenia's rapidly growing IT sector.

Letter from:
ARAM HARUTYUNYAN

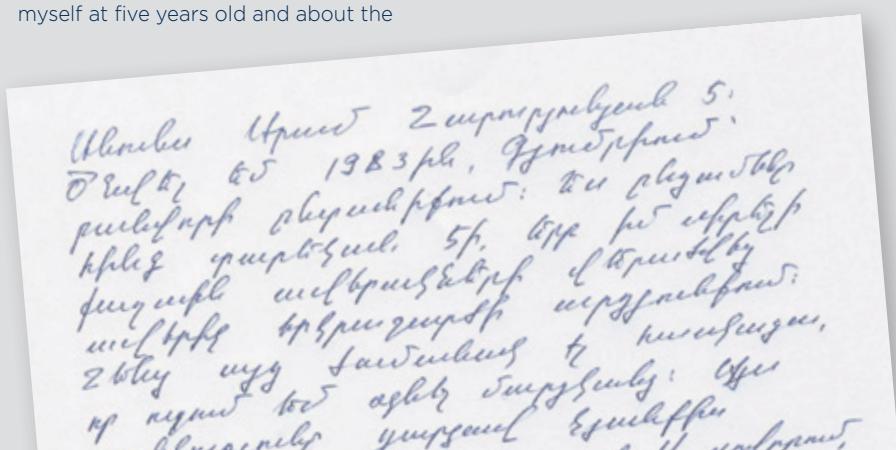

My name is Aram Harutyunyan. I was born into a working-class family in Gyumri in 1983. I was only five when my lovely city crumbled into ruins right before my eyes during the 1988 earthquake. Right then and there I knew that I wanted to help people and this wish became my life's goal. I did well at school but after graduation from a University in Gyumri, I faced a difficult job market. Soon, I learned about FAR's Gyumri Information Technology Center (GTech). The opportunity to learn programming was a true gift. I specialized in web technology and I continued to work hard to get through the rigorous two years of coursework. GTech's administration and teachers helped me to believe in my future. GTech changes lives and helps so many of us to realize our dream of contributing to the development of our country. Furthermore, the people who sponsor our tuition embody the importance of giving and sharing with others.

Now, two years after graduating from GTech, I work for GTech's Business Development Unit (BDU), where we help support income-generating projects in Armenia. I took this position even after I received several high-paying job offers from IT companies. We at BDU just completed our tenth project, a database development application, and I am more than proud of the results.

Looking back, I see the power of GTech in myself. Sometimes I think back to myself at five years old and about the goal I had, which I'm fulfilling every day. I always remember the words of Albert Schweitzer because they ring true for people who support our education by contributing to GTech and to FAR: "Even if it's a little thing, do something for those who have need of a man's help, something for which you get no pay but the privilege of doing it. For, remember, you don't live in a world all your own. Your brothers are here, too."

Thank you.

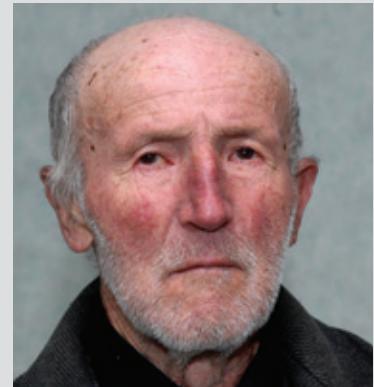

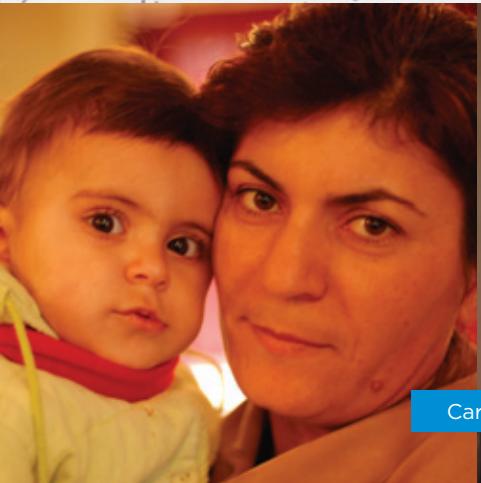

Caring for Armenia's Most Vulnerable

Vanadzor Old Age Home gives low-income elderly the chance for support by providing a caring living environment that meets their physical and psychological needs.

FAR's soup kitchens meet the critical needs of the most destitute by providing outlets for nutrition and medical care throughout Armenia.

Letter from: HITARYAN

My name is Jora Mkhitarian. I was born in 1936. I live in Nor Hajn, not far away from Yerevan. My family and I have been coming to this soup kitchen for 14 years in a row. I believe this is the reason – this soup kitchen – that I am still alive, given my age.

another soup kitchen beneficiary. We got married, and had our son the next year. Even though he has serious health problems, I am sure God will take care of him.

I want to thank the benefactors, organizers and staff of the soup kitchen for everything they do for ordinary people like us, each and every day.

Medical Programs

The Continuing Medical Education Program bolsters the overall health of Armenia's people by giving doctors from the rural provinces the opportunity to enhance their medical knowledge at top centers in Yerevan.

FAR also boosts capacity of hospitals and medical centers throughout the country through the distribution of medical supplies.

FAR supports the National Medical Library in Yerevan, which offers medical students access to the latest publications and technologies, enabling them to keep up to date on advances in the field.

The Anoosh Mathevorian Scholarship helps more Armenians become doctors by supporting and assisting graduates of Yerevan State Medical University during their clinical residency programs.

Letter from:
SONA ANTONYAN

My name is Sona Antonyan and I have been a pediatrician at the Children's Medical Center of Goris since 2000. Located at the crossroads of many cities in Armenia, our center is in high demand. Before I was able to participate in FAR's Continuing Medical Education Program (CME) for Provincial Doctors, it was very difficult to work because we lacked appropriate experience, skills and equipment. When I heard about CME, I applied immediately. I knew this opportunity would be key to improvement.

My first CME training was in October 2007 at the Arabkir Medical Center in Yerevan. Once I returned to Goris, I trained my colleagues on intravenous injection using a catheter, a great improvement on the methods we used before, which were labor intensive, difficult and traumatic for children.

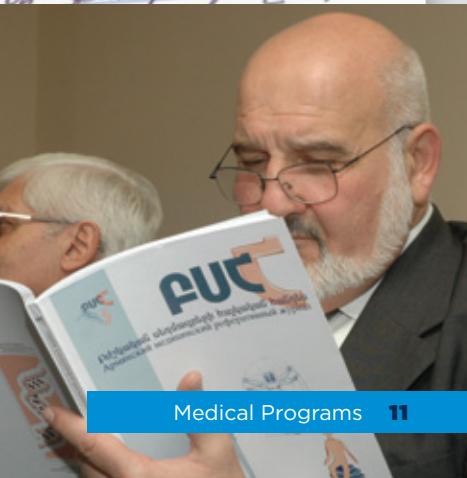

Many of our patients are newborns. In the past, we often had to take them to Yerevan for proper treatment, yet after a March 2008 training at the Neonatal Intensive Care Department in Yerevan, we can now treat these babies right here in Goris. The training changed my approach to the treatment of newborns, as I learned methods of epidural puncture, tracheal intubations and a new method for intravenous treatment. I continue to keep in touch with and consult other CME trainers.

In March, I attended another training at the Nork Infection Hospital, where new approaches are being taken for curing rotavirus intestinal infections and other diseases. The experience from this last training will also be put into practice as I convey what I learned to my colleagues. I have deep admiration and gratitude for the FAR CME program, which fills the gap in knowledge and experience that exists between metropolitan and regional medical centers. Due to the continuous exchange of knowledge, many more patients will receive proper treatment without any difficulty. As a doctor myself, I can tell you this – the generous people in the Diaspora who make every effort to help Armenia's doctors save even more lives are true heroes and are worthy of our deepest gratitude. On behalf of all my patients, thank you!

Letter from:
RUZAN GISHYAN
AVEDIS AND
ARSHO BAGHSARIAN
SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENT

I've started to believe in myself. FAR and its good people gave me a sense of self-confidence and hope for justice and integrity. Currently, I am a journalist and I work for a TV station in Yerevan. Journalism is something I've dreamed of doing since childhood. Thanks to a scholarship from FAR, I have been able to get a higher education, which has enabled me to pursue this career. The financial aid and support FAR has given me brings me hope, and thanks to this hope I am able to move ahead.

FAR gave me a desire to lend a helping hand to those in need, because it is a place that accepted me and encouraged me - and I want to do the same for others.

Today, the first small steps have been taken. I am an educated person and thanks to this I will be able to build a promising future for myself. I plan to continue my studies, and get the experience needed to become a qualified professional as my career moves ahead. I think FAR awakened in me a desire to do big things, to be purposeful and to reach for the stars. I want to have my own media outlet, and I hope that one bright and beautiful day I will be able to fulfill this dream.

I have started thinking big and already made big steps in my life. For this, I am very indebted and grateful to my new family - Fund for Armenian Relief.
