

ANNUAL REPORT 2024

FAR

Fund for Armenian Relief

2022

Fund for Armenian Relief (FAR) is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt nonprofit organization dedicated to building a promising future for the people of Armenia.

Our Story

FAR was founded on the principle of need. In response to the 1988 earthquake, a group of dedicated and prominent Armenians led by Archbishop Torkom Manoogian, Dr. Edgar Housepian, and Kevork Hovnanian, provided the necessary resources and aid to help Armenians rebuild their shattered lives. These outstanding individuals represented the collective strength and willpower of the Eastern Diocese and many American Armenians.

While initially focused on the immediate aid required, FAR quickly realized that Armenia needed medium-term and long-term support that extended far beyond healing the wounds inflicted by the earthquake's devastation. As a result, FAR evolved into an all-encompassing organization with a dedicated Board of Directors and a steadfast, incredible staff in Yerevan, Tavush, Gyumri, and Sisian.

Today, FAR is world-renowned and respected as an organization whose mission is to empower the people of Armenia. To date, FAR has implemented more than 300 relief, social, child protection, education, economic development, health, and cultural projects valued at more than $380 million.

Letter From Our

President and Chairman

Dear Friends,

In 2024, FAR's mission evolved for those forcibly displaced from Artsakh, and we shifted our focus from addressing emergency needs to rebuilding infrastructure, restoring livelihoods, and renewing hope. From emergency to empowerment, FAR has walked with the people of Armenia and Artsakh every step of the way. Today, we are proud to say that many of those we supported are now supporting others.

Take Diana, for example. After fleeing Artsakh during the 2023 exodus, she found herself starting over in unfamiliar territory. Through FAR's Small Business Assistance program, she received a grant to fulfill her lifelong dream - opening a beauty salon. In less than a year, she's gone from displaced to thriving. She's already hired six other women from Artsakh, giving them the same chance she was given. Her story is one of many that illustrates the power of opportunity when paired with resilience.

Throughout this report, you'll encounter similar stories - each one a testament to the transformational power of your support. You'll read about healthcare professionals from Artsakh gaining the credentials they need to serve patients in Armenia. You'll meet young scholars researching the evolution of cultural identity and memory in the face of war. You'll learn how Ayo!, FAR's crowdfunding platform, raised funds to help children with chronic illnesses access life-saving care. And you'll see how, from scholarships to social work, from job training to psychological support, FAR has remained steadfast in our promise to lift those most in need.

Our work is far from over. Even as we reflect on what has been achieved, we are laying the groundwork for what comes next. In September 2025, we are opening the Armenian Creative Technologies (ACT) College by the Gyumri Information Technologies Center (GITC), the first of its kind in Armenia. Supported by FAR, ACT is a state-licensed institution that will offer inclusive, industry-aligned education in computer science, digital arts, and engineering, preparing Armenia's next generation for the digital economy.

We're also investing in our youth. Thanks to the generosity of the Mardigian Foundation, FAR's Child Protection Center will soon undergo a full renovation, modernizing the space to better serve vulnerable children in crisis. And we are proud to announce that FAR has assumed responsibility for the Children of Armenia Sponsorship Program (CASP). Already in 2025, dozens of children from our waiting list have been matched with new sponsors.

None of this would be possible without you. Whether you've been with us for decades or joined us just this year, your commitment has directly shaped the lives of thousands. We hope that as you read through this year's annual report, you'll feel the full weight of what you've made possible and be inspired to continue walking alongside us as we build toward a brighter, more resilient Armenia.

Thank you,

In addition, the Children of Armenia Sponsorship Program (CASP) and support for displaced families have helped thousands of children receive essential aid, education, and opportunities for a better future.

Program Highlights

- Strengthened family reunification and reintegration efforts, expanding trauma-informed care and support services for displaced and at-risk children.
- Advanced national child protection reforms by promoting family-based care models, policy change, and specialized training for social workers.
- Delivered specialized psycho-social support to vulnerable children through "SOCIOBERD" Children's Daycare Services.

HIGHLIGHTED BENEFICIARY

Anush's Story

"I always try to be farsighted and keep moving forward—I do it for my children."

After losing her husband, Anush, a manicurist from the city of Berd, was left to raise three children on her own, one of them with autism. Each day became a struggle to meet basic needs while caring for her kids and keeping their spirits intact.

"We had big bags filled with clothes we didn't wear and used them as a mattress," she recalled. "It was kind of a bed, but the kids couldn't sleep comfortably." That changed when FAR reached out. Through the Children of Armenia Sponsorship Program (CASP), Anush's family received vital financial assistance—enough to buy real beds, warm clothing, and other essentials that gave them a sense of home again.

Most importantly, CASP helped her son Mher attend FAR's Children's Center, where he discovered a love for drawing and a safe, supportive place to make friends. "When I grow up, I want to be a teacher of Armenian history," Mher said with quiet pride.

CASP supports children of single mothers, fallen soldiers, and orphaned families with annual stipends—restoring dignity, stability, and hope to families like Anush's across Armenia.

By The Numbers

75 children provided with emergency shelter and support, with a 70% family reunification rate.

178 families in Tavush received holistic support, combining humanitarian aid with empowerment programs addressing disabilities and mental health.

60 social workers trained in trauma-focused care, increasing Armenia's social welfare system capacity to handle complex cases.

Diana's Story

"I am truly happy and grateful to FAR for believing in me and supporting me in making my dream a reality."

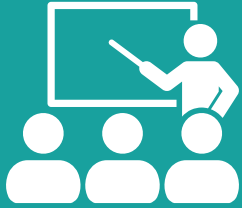

After being displaced from Artsakh in 2023, Diana Martirosyan faced an uncertain future. She began working at beauty salons in both Abovyan and Yerevan, commuting between cities seven days a week. But her long-held dream—to open her own salon—never faded.

Through FAR's Small Business Assistance (SBA) program, funded by the Atesian Family Foundation, Diana received a grant to launch Avagyans Beauty, which now employs six women who were also displaced from Artsakh. She also completed the GITC #SheCan accelerator program, a four-month course that helped her grow her business skills and refine her vision.

"When a woman's face and hair are well-groomed and beautiful, she feels happier and her mood improves," she said. Today, Diana's salon does more than offer beauty services—it creates stability, opportunity, and empowerment for women rebuilding their lives after conflict. Her success is a testament to what can happen when talent, determination, and the right support come together. She hopes to expand her salon and continue uplifting others along the way.

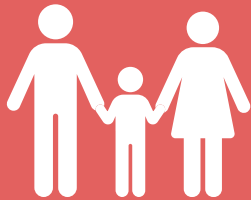

By The Numbers

200+ community members received economic, agricultural, and vocational training programs.

123 farmers given specialized training and counseling to improve agricultural practices.

HIGHLIGHTED BENEFICIARY

Dr. Hasratyan's Story

“Being a pediatrician brings me so much joy, and if life ever gave me the opportunity to choose my profession again, I would almost certainly choose pediatrics.”

For many years, Dr. Margarita Hasratyan served at the Children's Polyclinic in Stepanakert, where she nurtured deep bonds with the youngest members of her community. But after the 2023 displacement out of Artsakh, she and thousands of others were forced to flee their homes. After resettling in Yerevan, Dr. Hasratyan began working at a charitable polyclinic serving fellow displaced families, despite limited resources and the challenge of maintaining her medical credentials.

FAR's Continuing Medical Education (CME) program provided a critical lifeline. “FAR's support was invaluable,” she said. “They helped me obtain my certificate and start working again.” Through training at Arabkir Medical Center, she gained the credits and confidence needed to keep doing the work she loves.

Since the displacement, 85 Artsakhtsi healthcare professionals have completed CME training, ensuring that families across Armenia continue to receive the essential care they deserve.

By The Numbers

3,500+ individuals reached with health education, therapy, and screenings for physical and mental well-being.

200+ community members received vaccination, self-care, and mental health training.

32 healthcare professionals, including family doctors and social workers, trained in trauma care and vaccination advocacy.

Education

FAR's Education programs support students and educators by offering scholarships, improving school infrastructure, and enhancing STEM education in rural regions. FAR's efforts aim to provide equal opportunities for all children, particularly those from low-income families and border regions, ensuring they have access to quality education and a chance to pursue higher learning and vocational training. Extending this commitment to lifelong learning and academic growth, FAR's Yervant Terzian Armenian National Science and Education Fund (ANSEF) program empowers Armenian scientists to continue their research in Armenia, fostering innovation and development within the country.

Program Highlights

- Expanded STEM programs to over 7,000 students across 8 regions, fostering deeper engagement in science and math through quizzes, Olympiads, and mentorship.
- Increased access to higher and vocational education to 450 socially vulnerable students, with over 80% of graduates already employed in their field.
- Empowered 22 ANSEF scientific research teams, with 14 securing larger grants in 2024 and publishing over 80 articles, while also mentoring youth through STEM activities.

Professor Vardanyan's Story

"This isn't just about documenting the past - it's about understanding how we, as a people, continue to tell our story in a changing world."

For Associate Professor Nvard Vardanyan, storytelling has always been a part of her work. But after the 2020 Artsakh War and the mass displacement in 2023, her focus shifted from fairy tales and folk games to something far more urgent—preserving the cultural memory of a people in crisis.

With support from FAR's Yervant Terzian Armenian National Science and Education Fund (ANSEF), Nvard and her research team began exploring how narratives of war are reflected in both traditional and digital folklore across Artsakh. Their groundbreaking study is the first of its kind in Armenia.

Together with her colleagues, folklorist Anahit Khechoyan, who focuses on internet folklore, and Lusine Hayriyan, who studies war songs, Nvard is tracing how oral and digital traditions capture the trauma, resilience, and identity of Armenians today. Their findings have already reached an international stage, resonating deeply at a Vienna conference dedicated to Komitas. This research doesn't just preserve history—it makes space for evolving expressions of memory, resistance, and hope.

By The Numbers

8,000+ students received STEM education and scholarships.

Through initiatives like soup kitchens, senior care homes, and the Children of Armenia Sponsorship Program (CASP), FAR ensures that people in need receive hot meals, healthcare, and financial aid, helping them maintain dignity and stability during difficult times. FAR's Breaking the Cycle of Poverty Program (BCPP) expands this commitment through integrated services that address education, health, livelihoods, infrastructure, and psychosocial support.

Program Highlights

- Provided low-income seniors at Vanadzor Old Age Home with shelter, medical care, and a supportive community where they can age with dignity and purpose.
- Nourished and supported vulnerable seniors and underprivileged individuals through FAR's Soup Kitchens, creating a welcoming space for connection and care.

Ashot's Story

"I never imagined finding solace in a place like this."

Once a promising journalist, Ashot Hayrapetyan's life changed dramatically after the Soviet collapse. He lost his job, took on whatever work he could find, and eventually faced deep loneliness after his wife passed away. That's when he discovered FAR's Nor Nork Soup Kitchen.

There, a simple bowl of borscht offered more than nourishment; it brought back memories of his mother's cooking, and with it, a sense of comfort and belonging.

But it's more than food that keeps Ashot coming back. It's the warmth of the people: the kindness of the staff and the familiarity of fellow visitors like Andranik, a former lawyer, and Srбуhi, a singer. "The staff is incredibly kind, the food is delicious, and there's always someone to talk to," said Andranik. "It's become a bright spot in my life."

Supported by the Dadourian Family Foundation, the Nor Nork Soup Kitchen serves hot, nutritious meals to 170 elderly and low-income individuals five days a week, offering not only nourishment but community, dignity, and hope.

By The Numbers

670+ vulnerable families in Tavush were assessed and provided tailored support addressing social, economic, and basic needs.

659 children, including orphans and those impacted by conflict, received financial assistance to improve their access to education and daily necessities.

65 seniors received full board and care at Vanadzor Old Age Home, including 11 displaced from Artsakh.
